3. Copyright Transfer. Please check the appropriate box(es):

- In reviewing and editing this manuscript (text, tables, and figures), I hereby transfer, assign, or otherwise convey all copyright rights and other rights incidental thereto, including reprints, electronic media, and audiovisual, exclusively to the American Association of Critical-Care Nurses (AACN), in the event such work is published in Critical Care Nurse (CCN). The author(s) will have the right to use this material, provided permission is asked in writing in advance from AACN, so long as the copyright notice that appears on the issue in which the manuscript is published and a full citation to the periodical are included.
- I am or was an employee of the US government when this work was conducted and prepared for publication; therefore, it is not protected by the Copyright ACT, and copyright ownership cannot be transferred.

Note regarding NIH Funding/PubMed Central. For those authors whose research was funded by the National Institutes of Health (NIH), the editors and publishers acknowledge that the authors retain the right to provide a copy of the final manuscript to the NIH upon acceptance for journal publication for archiving in the PubMed Central database as soon as possible, but no later than 12 months after publication by the journal. (For NIH reporting purposes, CCN defines “acceptance” of a manuscript as occurring at the time the editors have approved the final page proof as accurate and ready for public release.) Please note, however, that submission of the manuscript to PubMed Central is the author’s responsibility.

4. Acknowledgment Statements. Please check the boxes to confirm the following statements.

- I certify that the work submitted is valid and neither this manuscript or one with substantially similar content under my authorship has been published or is considered for publication elsewhere, except as described in an attachment.
- If requested, I will provide data or will cooperate in obtaining and providing data on which the submitted work is based for examination by the editors and/or their assignees.
- The submitted work is original and does not copy or otherwise infringe upon the copyright or other proprietary rights of another property. I have obtained in writing, and will deliver, all necessary permissions to use, include, reproduce, and distribute any portions of the manuscript owned by other parties including figures, tables, and text.
- I have obtained, and can provide, written authorization to disclose any identifiable or potentially identifiable private health information of patients discussed in my article.
- I have obtained written permission from all individuals named in an Acknowledgment or whose unpublished data or personal communication are cited. If an Acknowledgment section is not included, no other persons have made substantial contributions to the submitted work.
